

Spine Care Technologies Inc. Announces Engagement of Merchant Banking Firm Aleutian Capital Partners to Provide Strategic & Financial Advisory Services

New York, Jan. 7, 2021 Spine Care Technologies Inc. ("SCT" or "the Company"), the non-invasive spine care technologies industry innovator, today announced that it has retained Aleutian Capital Partners ("Aleutian"), a boutique merchant banking and investment firm affiliated with Bradley, Woods & Co. Ltd., to provide strategic corporate planning and financial advisory services.

Spine Care Technologies President & Chief Executive Officer, Roland Kiser stated, "The Company is very pleased to have retained a financial advisory firm of Aleutian's stature to assist the company with important strategic decisions. After extensive meetings with Aleutian, management is confident that it has made an excellent decision that could materially benefit shareholders." Kiser stated further that "Aleutian's understanding of our current momentum, combined with the ongoing next generation product development efforts, made Aleutian stand-out during the selection process."

Lee Black, Managing Director at Aleutian Capital and a registered representative of Bradley Woods, added, "We are very pleased to bring Spine Care Technologies Inc. into our client roster. The combination of a seasoned management team with a clear vision, exciting growth prospects involving next generation product developments, a large market opportunity and a strong IP portfolio gives us confidence in the future of the Company. The Company appears to have a unique technology, a strong patent portfolio and many current and prospective partnerships. We are looking forward to assisting with strategic planning, developing strategic partnerships, and advising Spine Care Technologies moving forward."
